Harvest: Overnight and mechanical

Soil: Sandy loam, shallow and with stones

Vinification. : The wine has been obtained by carbonic semi-maceration, where fermentation occurs spontaneously in two phases.

Bottling: Rounded off in the bottle for at least one month.

It has an intense cherry colour with violet reflections. We can appreciate fruits of the forest, floral aromas such as daffodils and violets; scrubland, liquorice and milky notes. On the palate we find red and black fruits in a harmonious, smooth wine with very good acidity.
